Important information about RABIES VACCINATION and your cat

Your cat is due to receive a vaccination today designed to stimulate protection against rabies virus. Rabies is a disease transmittable from animal to people and, if contracted and untreated is FATAL. A new safer rabies vaccine for cats has recently been developed. Although slightly higher in cost than the previous vaccine, this new vaccine (called PUREVAX) is much safer and has less risk of potential side effects. PUREVAX is a rabies vaccine that is administered yearly. The previously used vaccine, called IMRAB, is still available and will be administered to your cat at your request.
